Casa Nalum is a private villa located inside the biosphere reserve of Sian Ka'an, the ideal setting to experience the seclusion of nature. With only 3 rooms including a master bedroom, this all-inclusive villa has a beautiful open-air common area that expands into a deck with gorgeous views of the Mexican Caribbean waters. A scenic lagoon is located behind the main house where guests are taken by private boat to explore ancient Mayan canals. The location offers complete peace and relaxation, and the welcoming staff includes a maid, cook, butler and gardener to accommodate every need, from a special drink to snorkeling equipment to planning aerial tours of the reserve. The house combines eco design with all the modern comforts of home and has cool and classic Caribbean décor. The villa includes a huge cinema screen with DVD player, table games and wireless Internet access. Dining is a wonderful experience with its exciting fusion of Mexican and European flavors. Guests can choose to dine in the formal dining room or al fresco on one of the terraces overlooking the sea. A relaxing Swedish massage is included for all adults. Guests can tour the Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve, UNESCO World Heritage site, which has 23 known archaeological sites. It covers 1.3 million acres and comprises one third of the Caribbean coast of Mexico.

Our inspector loved: The elegant yet simplistic architecture and décor.
